"Here were to be seen the long-robed Asiatics adorned with jewels made by the hands of Syrian craftsmen." says Arthur Weigail in "The Life and Times of Akhnaton." Here were charlots mounted with gold and electrum drawn by prancing syrian horses; here were Phoenician merchants with their precious wares stripped from the kingdoms of the sea; here were negroes bearing their barbaric treasures to the palace. The Expytitian soldiers held their heads high as they walked through these streats for they were feared by all the world. Among these was another footstop! on which two golden figures were cleverly iniaid, representing bearded Asiatics—a fact which shows again that this Pharaoh has a particular contempt for Semilite peoples.

Four alabaster vases containing perfumes were also removed. Marvetous as it may seem a slight scent can still be detected from them. The Pharaoh fly swatters, made of horse hair, with beautifully carved ivory handles, also appeared and several musical instruments, including reed pipes and a golden fifs, came up from the tombs.

Drill Holes Establish Good Values at Depth

Large Capital Necessary is Arranged For

erty, in the extreme southern section of the Oatman district. The mine is considered one of the most promising of the district, with a very large ledge that is clear on the landscape for over a mile.

Its earlier development is believed to have been away from the ledge and yet found gold values. Drill holes have established the presence of good ore at depth and a start has been made toward reaching the ore through a 500-level drift in the adjoining Nellie property. It has been demonstrated that large capital will be needed and this capital now is understood to have been obtained.

The Telluride ore body on the 300-level has widened to four feet, sampling $100 across the breast of the drift. Much of the ore will have to be shipped direct to a smelter, as the Tom Reed mill is not equipped for handling it. The ore of this shoot is expected to run into Tom Reed ground.

Oatman gold has drifted from its crosscut about fifty feet each way along an ore body six feet wide, sampling a wide variation of values, though from wall to wall the material is said to be of milling grade.

On its 600-level Oatman Combination is within fifty feet of ore found by diamond drilling and the

FIVE WELLS ADD TO OIL PRODUCTION

Four New Rigs Make Total of 408; Over 90,000 Barrels, Record Run, Reported

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 21. We Five new wells are in the produc-tion column this week. This makes a total of 205 wells producing, 110 drilling, ninety-three incomplete, and five abundoned. There are the producing needs, pipe lines, refineries, marine departments and sales organizations of the California companies. Every effort has been made in the production to impress upon the minds of the workers the ever-present danger of carelessness in the industry.

Statistics of the State Industrial Accident Commission indicate that the petroleum industry is relatively much freer from accident hazards than many large manufacturing enterprises or building trade occupations, but the companies are anxious to eliminate especially such accidents as occur from carelessness. In 1921 there were 25, 000 minor injuries attributed to this cause.

The film will be shown to the employees of the various companies and later will be available for distribution to the public under the auspices of the United States Bureau of Mines.

Jock Star Performer of Contest at Beverly; Gene Turns in Low Gross Card

In the morning rounds a heavy for hindered the players and made the greens very eoft and slow. Only a handful of people saw the drist eighteen holes that were played over the comparatively any south course. The golf of the first part of the day was miserable, the putting especially, due to the soggy greens. Jock seemed to have eaten force for breakfast as at almost very approach he overplayed and lit in the trap. Sarasen was still in the dump on the greens and the brilliant Hagen also seemed and the brilliant Hagen also seemed the handicap proved just enough to the day off day.

The whole tournament was handled in great shape and the 2500 people were enabled to see to the best advantage without rpining the fine coursa. Besides the 31000 that the players received, the Children's Hospital also received a like amount. Hagen and Kirkwood left for the Texas opens at San Antonio right after the match. Sarasen and Hutchison will remain to play in the Southern California open to be held at Filntridge today and Tuesday.

While the exhibition match was in progress, a tournament, much more important to club members, was also under way. The qualify round for the Annual Mid-Winter Handicap tournament resulted thus:

J. F. Byers of Fittsburg, president of the U.S.G.A., is expected to name soon the international team captain and upon the latter's aboulders will rest the task of marshalling the personnel.

There were fifteen starters in the initial stake race of the season. All got away from the post in good shape with Messines in the lead. Sunnyland was rated fifth at the start, and Abadane, slow to get her stride, was last. The Bronx racer was held in restraint by Ralls until the stretch was, reached, at which time Sunnyland came to the front with a rush and simply walked away from the field. olive Tablets, the substitute for caloniel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy. discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action. If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling — sick headache — torpid liver — constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

This declaration of a national policy is the latest to issue from Moscow, the den of the soviets. They have organised a Communist intelligencia, for the grandioes purpose of rewriting the history and the literature of the world, to make it conform to soviet ideas.

Shakespeare is new mode.

Shakespeare is now under revision. All former translations of his plays into Russian have been selected and burned; and the intelligencia has rewritten "Hamilet" for production in the soviet theater at Moscow Hamlet's lines contain quotations from the infaminatory distribes of Linan and Trotzky. By this subterfuge the intelligencia seek to give tradition and lineage to Communism.

Even more amusing is the treatment of old Polonius. He will appear on the stage in a make-up intended to caricature Lloyd George; and his lines will contain quotations from some of the addresses delivered by the ex-Prime Minister during the last four years.

Fulton Lane Sends a Letter to · Harbor Board

Says City Did Not Get What It Advertised For

The placing of marine insurance for the year 1923 on the $193,000 worth of floating equipment, which the city owns and operates at Los Angeles Harbor threatens to cause the same trouble which followed the award of the insurance for the year 1922 and protests already have been filed with the Board of Harbor Commissioners against the contract given last week to the Cosgrove-Cleverdon Company. Fulton Lane, one of the bidders for the insurance this year, says in a letter sent the board that under the Cosgrove-Cleverdon Company bid the city did not get what it advertised for and recommends that the business be given to other bidders or that new bids be asked for in the open sea or on trips to other ports.

Balfour, Guthrie & Co. offered the same terms as Mr. Lat.e.
Edwin W. Sandison, the Los Angeles Harbor district marine insurance broker, who was awarded the contract last year, declined to hid this year because of all the fuss and turmoll and charges and countercharges which followed the awarding of the business to him.

The Board of Harbor Commissioners will examine carefully the actual policies when they arrive from the Cosgrove-Cleverdon Company, and if Mr. Lane's charges that the city is not getting what it advertised for are sustained by the policies, it is expected new bids will be asked for.

Latter-Day Saints at 1114 Wall street.

This little old church has been established in Los Angeles about forty years—a branch of the Mormon Church that repudiated Brigham Young, polygamy, the Blood Atonement and other tenets and functions under the presidency of Frederick M. Smith, grandson of the original founder, Joseph Smith, And President Smith recently sent out a passionate appeal for loyalty to Christ, the inspiration for yester-day's sermon.

It is a quaint little church whose congregation has long outstrown it, now boasting 40 members. The platform looks like a modern bijou theater, with its pink tapestry hangings, artistically festooned around the tiny procenium, and its pale-green tinted walls contrasting strangely with the old woodwork, the modes; stained-glass window tops and the old-fashioned chandelers. But a sizable choir, made up largely of hatless women, found space on the little platform. To THOSE WEARY OF LIFE

The Church of the Reorganized Latter Day Saints at 1114 Wall street is for sale. The congregation intends to build a new and larger edifice in the near future to care for the greatly increased membership.

It was noteworthy that there was no collection. Only in the Jewish Synagogue is this practice also observed, I believe. This plan was adopted over a year ago and under the new system of dues, paid as Irr a club, the church has a surplus of $1000 in its exchequer this year, where previously it had despaired of meeting expenses.

It is also interesting to know that pasters in this church federation are paid out of a common fund and allocated to their respective churches from headquarters in Independence, Mo. Dr. Dowker was sent here five years ago and the church has thrived amazingly under his pastorate.
